In accordance with the country risk classifications of the OECD Arrangement, Credendo has upgraded the premium category for political risks on medium- to long-term export transactions for Aruba and Guyana (both from 6 to 5 on a scale from 1 to 7, where 7 represents the highest risk and premium category). At the same time, OECD premium categories have been downgraded for El Salvador and Ghana (both from 6 to 7). The acceptance policy remains unchanged.

Overview of changes in premium categories
